The day's program started at 8:30 a.m. and wound-up at 10: p.m. with the presentation of awards. Spectators came and went during the day to see young skaters perform in several events.

The Drayton Valley Figure Skating Club, sponsors of the event, were satisfied with the success of its first venture of this nature but would have appreciated a little more attendance by spectators.

Winners of C.F.S.A. compulsory events will go on to the finals to be held in Sherwood Park later this winter.

At a banquet at the Gadium Room of the Drayton Valley Hotel in the early evening, Mayor Lloyd MacLean extended a welcome to visitors to the community.

Principal speaker for the evening was Mr. N. A. Chomik of Vegreville, Director of the Northern Alberta Figure Skating Zone. He traced the progress of figure skating in Alberta and also extended his congratulations to Drayton Valley in staging the first sub-sectional competition. Drayton Valley club president, Mrs. Gwen Simpson extended a welcome to visitors.

Draw for the Elan Sld-Doo was made during the evening and the lucky winner was Lloyd Imrie of Drayton Valley.

Rebels and Maroons in First Place League Tie

BY DOUG BARNES

The Drayton Valley Rebels have defeated last years league champions, the Wetaskiwin Colonels 3 times in the 3 times they have met this year. The third time was last Tuesday night, December 1st in Wetaskiwin in a wild and wooly high scoring game - Rebels 10, Colonels 7.

16 Penalties were handed out by the referee's -- 6 to Drayton Valley and 10 to Wetaskiwin. Rebel goals in the first period by Barry Ness from Hemmingway and Garding at 4:42; LaPointe from Belcourt at 13:38; Ness from Novosel and Roggeveen at 15:17.

Colonels received goals from Hucht and MacEachern. First period ended 3 to 2 for the Rebels.

Both teams scored 2 each in the second period. Sam Belcourt scored both for the Rebels from Ness at 8:49 and from Ness and Roggeveen at 9:18. Wetaskiwin got goals from Maciborski and Schaefer.

Second period ended the Rebels up one goal, 5 to 4.

The third was a free wheeling period with 8 goals scored. Five by Drayton Valley and three by Wetaskiwin.

Dan Dayle scored unassisted at 10:40; Hodgson from Hemmingway at 11:22; Novosel unassisted at 12:47; Novosel from Belcourt and Ness at 14:05; and LaPointe closed the scoring for the Rebels from Hemmingway at 18:40.

The Colonels tied the game at 7:04 with an unassisted goal by Green. They went ahead 2 goals, one at 7:38 and one at 8:27, both by Mac Eachern. Then the Rebels took over and scored 5 unanswered goals to win 10 to 7. To this writer, Frank Novosel and Barry Ness were the outstanding players on the ice in this game going both ways. Barry had one of the best games I've ever seen him play.

The Rebels dropped a game to the Fort Saskatchewan Huskies Saturday night, December 5th - 7 to 4.

The Huskies led 2 to 0 after the first period with goals from Shillington and Don McIntyre. The Huskies also received 5 penalties in this period but the Rebels were unable to capitalize on these advantages.

In the second period LaPointe scored from Roggeveen and Hodgson at 1:25 to make it 2 to 1 for the Huskies, but the Huskies dropped the Rebels back two goals again at 5:03, Jim Feeney brought them within one goal again at 7:05 unassisted. Huskies made the score 4 to 2 at 14:02 with a goal by Doug Robertson. The Rebels came within one goal again at 19:56 by Sam Belcourt unassisted.

The second period ending with the Huskies 4 and the Rebels 3.

The Huskies outscored the Rebels 3 to 1 in the third period with goals from Bob Shillington, Don McIntyre and Colin Grier. The only Rebel goal was scored by Sam Belcourt from Barry Ness at 2:28. 15 penalties were handed out -- 4 to the Rebels and 11 to the Huskies.

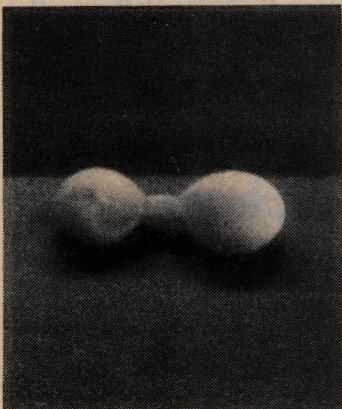

Sunday's game started out the same way as Saturday's game. The Rebels were down 2 after the first period. The Huskies received goals from Former Rebel Dale Ripple and Bob Shillington. They tied it up in the second period with goals from Barry Ness LaPointe and Roggeveen. The second period ended tied.

Henry Hodgson scored what proved to be the winning goal at 11:07 of the third period assisted by Belcourt. Sam Belcourt scored the clincher at 15:18 assisted by Hodgson and Roggeveen. Lorne Foster played well in the net for the Rebels, making 20 saves in the last two periods to shut out the Huskies. The final score was Rebels 4, Huskies 2. 11 penalties were handed out, 4 to the Huskies and 7 to the Rebels.

Camrose Maroons handled Westlock Eagles easily on Saturday night, whipping them 8 to 2. Along with the Rebels loss on Saturday night, this put Camrose up 2 points in league standing. The Rebels win on Sunday tied them up again for first place. The Maroons were idle on Sunday.

The next game for the Rebels will be at home Tuesday night when they host the Wetaskiwin Colonels. The same night Fort Saskatchewan is at Camrose. Wins by the Rebels and Maroons would make Saturday at Camrose a real battle for first place.

Camrose met Stettler on Thursday night. The Stettler Imperials came on strong Saturday night and beat the Wetaskiwin Colonels 5 to 0. Rebels individual statistics will be in next week's Western Review.

Free Skiing Feature of Opening Day Saturday

Last Sunday the Drayton Valley Ski Club opened the 1970 - 71 season as in previous years, with a "free-ski" day.

The hill is in excellent shape with a well packed base and over 150 skiers turned out. Many new skiers both young and old were in evidence as well as the many hardened veterans, and all seemed to have a very enjoyable first day.

Two of the three tows were in operation and by next weekend the tow on the new section of hill should be in operation.

This year the skier can go one of two ways to the hill. In addition to the road to the original parking area at the top there is now a new road in to the new section at the bottom of the hill. This new section will be the new beginner's area.

The Ski Club intends to build a new Chalet at the bottom of the hill for the 1971 - 72 season.

The membership rates for this season are the same as for last season: Family Membership, (Dependent children only) - $32. Single Adult - $20.00. Student - $12.50.

Day fees are also the same as last season: Adult - $2.00 per day. Students - $1.50 per day.

Ski lessons will be available

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

By Kevin Peterson and Don Sellar (Of the Calgary Herald)

When Peter Lougheed was elected leader of Alberta's Progressive Conservatives in March, 1965, the party was looking at a bleak future.

"I have no illusions," The Calgary lawyer said after winning the right to lead a political party which hadn't held a legislative caucus for 30 years. "It's a long, tough road."

Next spring, Mr. Lougheed will celebrate his sixth anniversary as leader and likely get his second crack at the premiership of the province.

Election number one was a good one for the fledgling opposition force: It captured a toe-hold by winning six seats, five of them in the cities. Since then, Tory fortunes have been on the upswing.

Ernest Manning cut short his remarkable career as Social Credit leader late in 1968. The Tories promptly captured his seat in a by-election, then added the Liberal-held riding of Edson to the fold.

Next, two defections swelling Conservative ranks to 10 MLA's with Liberal Bill Dickie and Independent Clarence Copithorne joining the Tory caucus.

As the next election draws near, it is evident Mr. Lougheed will field a full slate of 75 candidates across the province, compared with 46 PC's who contested the 65 ridings up for grabs in 1967.

Now, Mr. Lougheed is looking to rural voters and candidates to broaden his base of support in the quest for power.

More than 50 nominated candidates and campaign organizers huddled in Banff last weekend for an event billed by party brass as an "old fashioned campaign school".

The leader himself concedes his position outside the major cities needs improvements, particularly on the main streets of small Alberta communities. Mr. Lougheed feels he is making headway in winning the farmers to the Tory cause, particularly with help from his three rural members, Bob Dowling of Edson, Dr. Hugh Homer of Lac Ste. Anne and Clarence Copithorne of Cochrane.

But the business men and other small-town residents -- the same group that were strongest in opposition to William Aberhart in 1935 -- are still the backbone of Social Credit support.

Mr. Lougheed keeps plugging away with promises of a $50 million rural industrialization program and with charges that provincial finances have been mishandled by Social Credit.

Six-month interim budget figures last week added fuel to the Tory leader's fire, when they showed a record $142 million deficit at mid-year. The government is determined to hold the line on taxes next year, but it is certain the Tories will campaign on the suggestion that tax increases would follow closely on the heels of a Socred victory.

The Opposition has spent much of the past year hammering out an election platform which leans heavily on property tax reform as a vote-getter.

Mr. Lougheed has pledged that a Conservative government would assume responsibility for education costs, leaving property taxes free to finance municipal government services.

The Socreds describe this as "unrealistic" -- but have responded with increased education contributions which lowered property taxes in nearly every Alberta municipality in 1970.

Mr. Lougheed continues to emphasize that the Conservatives must be regarded as underdogs in the next provincial election. In addition to attracting cities in much the same fashion the government beat back the Liberal opposition in the late 1950's.

It took Robert Stanfield 12 lonely years to oust an entrenched government in Nova Scotia. But even if Peter Lougheed loses in Alberta next year, he would still have six more to go.

Report From Parliament Hill

By Allen Sulatycky, M.P.

Canadians everywhere were relieved when James Cross was released unharmed by his kidnappers and a national nightmare came to an end. This happy event was the highlight of a week which gave the newsmen plenty of material.

Honourable John Munro, Minister of National Health and Welfare started off the news-packed days with the tabling of long-awaited White Paper on Social Policy. The proposals in the paper are intended to make Canadian social assistance schemes more rational and to direct the greatest degree of assistance to those who are most in need of it.

Briefly, it is proposed to raise Old Age Pensions, so that no single old person has an income of less than $135.00 per month. All qualified married couples will be guaranteed $255.00 per month. In addition, improvements in the Canada Pension scheme are suggested.

The system of Family Allowances is also recommended for revamping. It is proposed to cease paying allowance to those whose total income exceeds $10,000. per year. Benefits under the program will be increased for those with lower incomes, so that families with a total income of less than $4,500.00 will receive $16.00 per child; those with $9,501.00 to $10,000.00 will get five dollars per child, and other earning groupings will be scaled between the upper and lower levels of payments.

Of welfare payments generally, the paper states that the Federal government is anxious to discuss with the provinces how such assistance can be changed so that it will be undeserving in the future of the criticisms now prevalent.

Later in the week, the Honourable J.E. Dube, Minister of Veterans Affairs announced important changes in the governments' programs for veterans. Most of the recommendations for improvement made by the Standing Committee on Veterans Affairs will be implemented.

Veterans who have a disability will be given an across-the-board increase of 10%. In addition there will be a 15% increase in War Veterans Allowance rates and an equivalent increase in income ceilings.

The next day, while Mr. Cross was enjoying his first hours of newly-found freedom, the Honourable E.L. Benson presented his budget for the coming months. For most Canadians it provides no changes. There will be no tax increases and no tax cuts. All measures proposed in the budget are designed to increase employment, especially in areas where the most serious unemployment exists.

It was a confident budget, which showed that Canada's economy was headed in an upward direction.

Mr. Benson concluded his budget address by saying: "Investors from all over the world are obviously willing to place their bets on Canada. My strong advice to Canadians everywhere is that there is no better bet."

In the relief engendered by Mr. Cross's release, most Canadians were ready to agree with his advice.

EVANSBURG NEWS

The last big snowstorm resulted in only half a day of school for all the children bused into the village school. The next day, however, on December 1st, school classes went on as usual with only one bus getting stuck on the journey and arriving late. The children also had an extra long weekend preceding the latest storm. This was because the parents were invited to the schools to discuss their children's progress for the first three months of the year. Since it was a very cold day, some of the parents failed to show up and meet the teachers so it is hoped that they will take advantage of the fact that they are welcome to interview their children's teachers at any time if they desire.

A meeting of the Pembina District Council was held in the village hall recently. A poor attendance was recorded as the weather was a bit chilly. However, an extra meeting has been scheduled to take place at the Evansview School on December 10th. This is to be in the form of a training session for Scouters and the district Scoutmaster hopes to see most of the leaders present.

The meeting of the Stony Plain 4-H Council was postponed until a later date due to the weather conditions.

The Volunteer firemen called a special meeting for the members to avail themselves of the knowledge on new resuscitating equipment.

The Ladies' Auxiliary wish everyone to know that their travelling Christmas tree is now appearing in the various business places in the village. If you wish to send a local friend a Christmas greeting, give a donation to the Centennial Arena Fund and your name and wishes for a joyous season to your friends will appear on the tree. All funds collected in this way are turned over to the Centennial Arena committee to pay for this building project.

ALBERTA IN ACTION INTRODUCING NEW METHODS

"Land Use" committees active

The Alberta farmer unable to make a living on his land is no longer chained to his investment. Today, he can seek the assistance of the Alberta Department of Agriculture's farm consolidation program. Under this program, the farmer can appeal to one of the 15 farm adjustment committees established in the province for help in improving his position.

The committees, made up of six local farmers and representatives from the provincial Departments of Agriculture, Lands and Forests, and Municipal Affairs, recommend proper action to the government. This may take the form of purchase of the land, with the farmer moved to a more productive area or retrained in a vocation more suitable and desirable for him.

It may be recommended that the Department assist the farmer to enlarge his holdings to make them a productive unit. Purchased land, if suitable, may be made available to neighboring farmers or, if sub-marginal, may be retained by the government for forestry or recreational purposes. Last year, the farm consolidation program bought 363 parcels of land at a total cost of close to $1 million. Of these, 131 were retained for agricultural purposes, the remainder were set aside for watershed and wildlife conservation, recreation and forestry reserves.

Computers speed government operation

How can a computer increase the efficiency of Alberta's highways system? It can provide immediate solutions to problems of highway and bridge construction and design, dispense drivers' licenses and automobile registrations with unparalleled efficiency and compile demerits for traffic violators. The provincial government data processing centre does all this and much more. Health and pollution studies and statistics, processing of high school examination results, preparation of Improvement District tax notices, forestry studies, engineering problems and many other applications are all part of the regular processing load of the three computers currently in use. All government expenditures, currently in excess of one billion dollars yearly, are processed with the equipment keeping a close watch on budget limitations. The largest single user of the Centre, in terms of documents handled, is the Alberta Health Care Insurance Plan. Presently, the computers are processing 20,000 to 25,000 doctors' claims every working day resulting in weekly payments approximating $1,500,000.00. In addition, the computers prepare all billings and record all premiums collected for the Plan. The business of government has become so complex and complicated it would be literally impossible for it to function in its present form without the assistance of the data processing division of the Provincial Auditor's Office.

North receives individual attention

The 129,000 square miles that make up northern Alberta, present special problems in the development of their potential. To isolate these problems and to develop solutions, the provincial government appointed the Northern Alberta Development Council. Its six members, two from government and four from the private sector, are in constant contact with happenings and requirements of the area which lies north of the 55th parallel. The Council advises the provincial government on the needs for social and economic development; recommends and provides funds for programs designed to fulfill the area's potential. The actual implementation of these projects is undertaken by the government departments to whom the plan is directed by the N.A.D.C. During the last fiscal year, $3 million were spent for drainage and flood control, highway and bridge construction, fishery survey, provincial park development, air-strip construction, domestic water and health improvement projects, and human resources development programs.

Central control for provincial buying

Perhaps the biggest customer for manufacturers and supplies throughout Alberta is the provincial government itself, which each year must purchase innumerable items, from paper clips to construction steel. A central control is maintained on provincial buying by the Purchasing Agency of the Provincial Treasurer's Department.

This agency seeks the right price for commodity purchases by the tender system, which permits suppliers to bid competitively on orders. Quality and service, as well as price, are always carefully considered. If all three are equal, preference is given to products manufactured in the province, but no price preference is given to Alberta manufacturers or suppliers. This method of buying permits the Purchasing Agency to make the best use of provincial funds and offers to all suppliers a fair opportunity to gain the Alberta government as a customer.

Printer provides advisory help

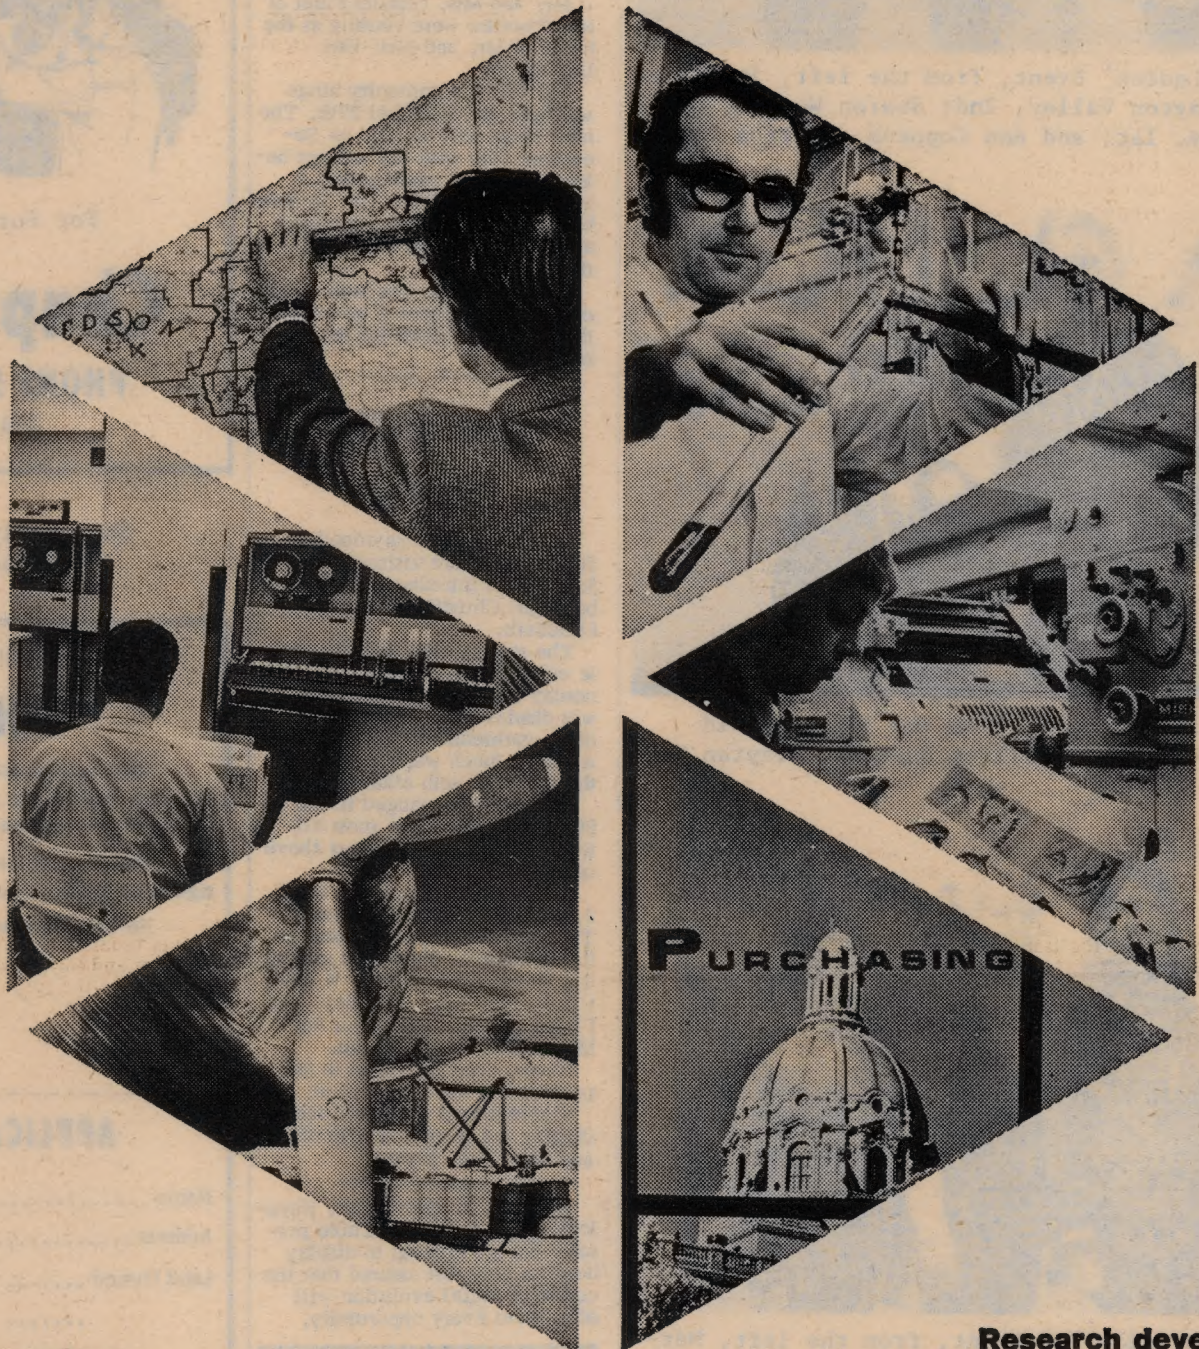

Bookstores throughout Alberta will soon be displaying a new publication titled "Fishes of Alberta". It is a companion piece to three previous books on the birds, mammals, and wild flowers of the province, all of which have been published by the Queen's Printer. Produced as educational material, the books are made available to the public at cost, approximately half the normal commercial price. In addition to this type of publication, the Queen's Printer also has for sale copies of all acts and statutes passed in the Alberta legislative.

This branch of the Provincial Treasurer's Department provides a practical printing and advisory service to all areas of government. All printing required for government purposes is placed through the Q.P., which either produces the material with its own facilities, or obtains the assistance of printers throughout the province.

Research develops natural resources

A plant now under construction in Lethbridge will soon be producing activated carbon from local coal, utilizing a process developed by the Research Council of Alberta. Now, the Council, having established procedures for production of this material, is developing other carbons for use in pollution control. The Research Council's programs of development of Alberta's natural resources and of technical assistance to industry have resulted in a number of successful production processes.

Perhaps the best known of these are the extraction methods used to separate oil from the Athabasca Oil Sands, and the development of iron powder from the low-grade iron ore deposits in the Peace River area. Through active research on resource development, assistance to industry on technical and production problems, and long term research programs contracted with private companies, the Research Council of Alberta contributes greatly to the efficient development and use of the province's natural resources.

Come on over to the friendly flavour of Golden West

Did you know: that cattlemen Sam Howe and John Ware found an oily substance in a Turner Valley pond years before oil was discovered. The substance was identified when they held a match to it, but was identified by the oil ooze. There went the chance of a lifetime!

Golden West tastes the way Alberta beer should taste Cheerful, bright, and inviting.

drug seminar on November 20th. The last weekend of November was a long weekend for the students. On November 26, parent-teacher interviews were held and the staff found them to be most instructive and enjoyable. The following day, November 27, found the staff joining all the other Grades 1 to 9 teachers of the County of Parkland for an institute at St. Anthony's.

The students took part in the International "Stamp Week" Appeal sponsored by the "Action for the Crippled Child" group. The students responded very well and we collected a total of 18,771 stamps over the five-day collection period. Top collectors for each day were: Shane Hansen - 1186; Dale Chenery - 2555; Gerald Krabbe - 2570; Lois Paterson - 2162; and Janet Becket - 840. The stamps are to be sold by the "Action for the Crippled Child" group to distributors of stamps. They hope to realize about $60,000 for their fund.

Christmas is just around the corner and students and staff alike are busy with plans for closing day and plans for the holiday season.

This week we will introduce a new staff member. Miss Sylvia Erickson is homeroom teacher for grade 7B. She is teaching Physical Education, Social Studies and Arts and Crafts. Miss Erickson was born in Olds, Alberta, and went to Elementary School in Elkton, Alberta. She spent her junior and senior high years in Cremona Schools, graduating in 1965. She has taken her university work at the University of Alberta and will receive her Bachelor of Education degree with the May, 1971 class. Students and staff alike are finding Miss Erickson to be a valuable addition to our staff.

Correction

An error occurred in last week's account of the Senior Citizen's Club meeting. The quilts made and funds donated were made by Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Domke, not Mrs. Duckett, as reported.

Mrs. Malaney, the club reporter, expresses her regret for the error.

Funeral Service Saturday For Johnny Plewis

On Saturday, December 5th, 1970, the many friends and relations of the late Ambrose Freeman Plewis gathered in the Evansburg hall to pay their last respects. Mr. Plewis was known as "Johnny," a nickname he had all his life.

Johnny was born to Effie and Freeman Plewis on May 11th, 1900, in their home in a small district near Brace Bridge, Ontario. In 1908 the Plewis family moved to Shaunavon, Saskatchewan and in 1909 took a homestead in Kyle, Saskatchewan.

In 1917 Johnny took over his father's homestead and in 1926 married Miss Marlon Kyle and of this union five children were born.

In 1931 he moved his family to Alberta, settling first in the Brightwood district near Entwistle. Later he moved across the Pembina River to the Reno district.

In recent years he took a homestead in the Moon Lake area where he lived until June 16th, 1969 when he married Mrs. Eldora Stewart and the couple lived in the Ramona district.

On November 30th he was killed in a head-on collision near Lodgepole, Alberta.

He is survived by his loving wife Eldora, one daughter Lorraine Collinson of Vancouver, B.C.; three sons, Glenn of Nanaimo, B.C., Erwin of Singapore and Jack of Seattle, Washington; three step-daughters, Doreen Herndon of Westlock, Peggy Lyak of Tomahawk and Joan Horn-ton of Sherwood Park; three step-sons, Ron and Bob Stewart of New Hazelton, B.C., and Ken Stewart of Drayton Valley; four grandchildren and twenty-seven step-grandchildren. He is also survived by five sisters, Mildred MacLean of Florida, U.S.A., Treena Sheppard of Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, Elsie Allen of Thessalon, Ontario, Helen and Christine Larsen of Chilliwack, B.C. and three brothers, Lawrence - known as Barney -, Gordon - known as Sport - and Harvey - known as Bub - all of Swift Current, Saskatchewan and many nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by one infant son, Edwin in 1930, his father in 1937, one sister in 1966 and his mother in 1968.

Johnny always liked children and was very thoughtful of his friends. He will always be remembered as a wonderful friend and neighbor and will be sadly missed.

Replacement cattle and calves sold at steady prices on active trading.

MUCH HIGHWAY WORK COMPLETED

Hon. Gordon Taylor, Alberta Minister of Highways and Transport, in issuing the final release on highway construction for this year, said that a high degree of work has been completed, including 99% of the grading, or 149.8 miles; 96 % of the base course, being 323.4 miles; 98% of the plant mix, being 340.4 miles, and 100% of the seal coat being 248.88 miles. The degree of completion is considerably higher than 1969.

The best productivity occurred in southern and central Alberta whereas the north and northeast areas were seriously affected by very heavy and untimely rainfall.

In this area base course work was extended on Highway 12 from North of Rimbey to South of Hoadley.

Ookpik Celebration

In February of each year, CFB Greenwood, Nova Scotia takes on an atmosphere of "Joie de Vivre" as Canadian Armed Forces personnel and their wives celebrate Greenwood's OOKPIK Winter Carnival week.

The Carnival proper is a composite of sports, both indoor and outdoor, variety show, moustache competition, parade, social events and of course the Carnival Queen.

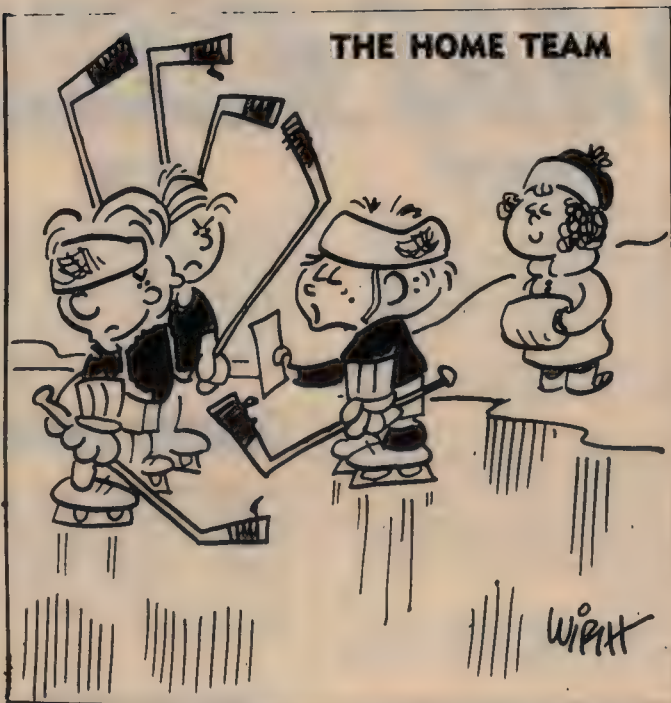

The personnel split into ten groups, each group representing their native province. Each event in the Carnival is competitive and teams are drawn from the provincial groups vying for points in the competition to make their province tops.

Alberta is well represented in OOKPIK and Albertans are prominently dressed in their Stetsons and cowboy outfits. The Alberta "Whoop and Holler" is heard constantly during the week as the cowboys and cowgirls cheer their team on to victory.

Encouragement to the Albertan cause from back home has been given generously as public figures, companies, personalities as well as private citizens have lent their support.

Although the Albertans of Greenwood, N.S. are more than 3,000 miles away from home, a small part of Alberta is situated in the heart of Nova Scotia's Annapolis Valley during OOKPIK time. If the folks in Alberta would like to boost the cowboy contingent, they are invited to write: ALBERTA, c/o OOKPIK Carnival, CFB Greenwood, Nova Scotia.

Suffocation fatalities among infants, generally due to re-gurgitation of food, or smothering in beds or cradles, accounted for 54.1 per cent of all suffocation deaths.

"Her 3-star selection is . . . Venus, Jupiter and Mars!"

It's a shame that advice is sometimes so misleading that it must be termed "fool's advice". We are speaking now about advice that causes misuse of gasoline.

Gasoline has a flash point of -45 degrees F. It has a vapour density of 3-4 and specific gravity is .08. This means that gasoline vaporizes freely at room temperature. A mixture of 1.3 - 7.6 parts with air will explode or burn. Gasoline vapour, though invisible, will move on air currents near floor level and find a source of ignition such as a pilot light on a stove or furnace; hence, gasoline should never be handled in open containers nor used for cleaning purposes at any time and most certainly never inside dwellings.

A man was burned to death recently near Edmonton because he was advised by his employer that he could use gasoline to clean his caulking tools. He acted upon that advice, caused a fire in a house basement he was repairing and perished in the fire. He was the victim of fool's advice.

Another man a month later in the City of Edmonton was using gasoline in his basement to clean spots from his winter jacket. He too was acting on fool's advice and it cost him his life.

Gasoline as a motor fuel handled under closely controlled conditions does so much for us, but let us beware of the fool's advice that leads to mishandling and misuse of it.

New father: "What'll we call it?"
Tired mother: "Quits."

Ten Steps to Safe Driving

1. Keep both hands firmly on the wheel -- at 10 and two o'clock -- and both eyes on the road.
2. Never tailgate -- allow at least one vehicle length for every ten miles per hour of speed.
3. On wet, snowy or icy roads, reduce speed well below posted speed limits, depending on the severity of conditions.
4. Always signal intention -- turns, lane changes, passing.
5. Curves require special attention -- slow down before entering, then apply power to wheels. Be alert for oncoming cars; they often cross the center line.
6. Never pass on hills or curves. On straightaways pass only when positive the way is clear.
7. Don't drive after heavy drinking. If you have been drinking moderately, allow one hour for each one-ounce drink or beer (12 ounces) consumed, before driving.
8. Keep the car in good operating condition, especially brakes, tires, steering and front end suspension, front and rear lights, mirrors, turn signals, wipers, muffler and exhaust pipe.
9. Always fasten safety belts and lock car doors.
10. Drive defensively: "Recognize the hazard; understand the defence; act in time."

Yuletide Shopping Tips

Following are a few Yuletide Shopping Tips from the Edmonton Better Business Bureau, a non-profit service corporation, maintained by business firms to elevate the standards of business conduct, fight frauds and assist the public to get the maximum satisfaction from its relationships with business.

Make certain you deal with a reliable firm. If in doubt check with your B.B.B.

Examine purchases before Christmas to verify size, quality and condition.

Read any contract or sales agreement BEFORE you sign -- keep a copy.

Refuse to buy from the few who use tricky, gimmick ads. They can't be trusted.

Yuletide charities could be fakes. Get facts. Give to the needy, not to the greedy.

Compare value as well as price. Shoddy merchandise is no bargain.

Have fun shopping, but guard money and valuables from thieves and pickpockets.

Read guarantees carefully BEFORE buying. They should be in writing.

Include Zones and Zip Codes, and address parcels clearly and legibly.

Set aside the money you can spend, and stay within the limit set.

Transient vendors may not be around after Christmas to handle complaints.

Mail order firms should be checked for reliability with special care.

Allow ample delivery time. Know your store's exchange and refund policy.

Shop early, when selections are better, and there is time for careful buying.

SUB-MITS FROM THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

It's December already and the students and staff are caught in the count-down before Christmas. With nearly two-fifths of the year gone, most of us are taking an over-all look at how much (or how little) we seem to have accomplished.

The mumps epidemic has claimed yet another two victims. Last week it was Mrs. Jeanette Miner (grade 1) and this week it is Miss Lesley Batten (also grade 1).

The cold weather last week resulted in several minor frost-bites. While on the cold weather topic, please remember that children need to get outside for fresh air to run off "steam". If you have a good reason for requesting your child to stay in, then please send a note to that teacher. Otherwise children are expected to go out to play.

Said a grade four child to me, "Do you know what the forecast is for tonight?" "Dark."

Drayton Valley Church Setting for Fall Ceremony

A lovely fall wedding took place October 30, 1970 at 1:00 o'clock in the Drayton Valley United Church, when Patsy Edith Wasyk, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Wasyk, of Buck Lake, and Arvid Herbert Kellgren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kellgren of Alder Flats, were united in marriage.

Rev. R. Oldring performed the double-ring ceremony in the church decorated with pink and white mums and white candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked radiant in an A-line gown of bridal white crepe with long fitted sleeves, featuring double rows of pleats around the high neckline and the sleeves.

Over the gown she wore a sleeveless coat with detachable hood, with pleats around the edge of the hood and down the front of the coat, which had a full skirt in the form of a train. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and white stephanotis with white satin streamers ending in rose buds.

The bridesmaids were Peggy-Ann Wasyk, Maid of Honor, and sister of the bride; Dorothy Schenk and Joan Peterson of Calgary. The bridesmaids gowns were identical -- American Beauty rose chiffon, high waisted with rose satin ribbon belts and a bow at the front, tiny cap sleeves. They all wore white accessories and their bouquets were white gardenias and tiny roses with small rose flowers on white lace and white satin streamers.

The best man was Vigo Kellgren, brother of the groom, attendants were Douglas Wasyk, brother of the bride and Carl Durant of Alder Flats. The ushers were Arnold and Dwight Kellgren brothers of the groom.

For Patsy's wedding, her mother wore a brown and white 2 piece ensemble, a low-waisted white turtleneck with brown pleated skirt, and a brown vest with white trim. She wore white accessories and a yellow rose corsage.

The groom's mother chose a dress and coat of coral turtleneck with white and black accessories and a yellow rose corsage.

A reception for approximately 123 was held at 5:30 at the Buck

Lake Recreation centre. The bride's table was centered with a 4-tier cake made and decorated by Sharon Kellgren, sister-in-law of the groom.

On either side of the cake were pink candles and vases of silver roses and rose ferns. The tables were decorated in this way, as well.

Rev. Oldring said grace and Ron Krypta was a capable Master of Ceremonies. The toast to the bride was given by Ken Krypta, uncle of the bride, to which Arvid replied. The toast to the bridesmaids was given by Vigo Kellgren, brother of the groom. Ted Binning, uncle of the groom spoke a few words.

Ricky Wasyk and Doreen Krysta were in charge of the guest book.

Open house was held from 7 to 9 o'clock with a large attendance, after which a dance was held, with music by the Cave Brothers of Wetaskiwin.

Out of town guests were Ken and Iris Krysta of Lloydminster; Carol and Ozzie Rees of Westbank B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Krysta (the bride's maternal grandparents) of Kelowna, B.C.; Alex Wasyk and girls of Creston B.C.; Bill Wasyk, also of Creston; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Binning of Lacombe and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Binning of Vancouver, B.C.

After a week's honeymoon to Kelowna and other points in B.C. the happy couple are residing in Drayton Valley where Arvid is employed with M & R Trucking.

Girls' Groups Plan Sale

The Girl Guide Association of Drayton Valley, consisting of Girl Guides, Brownies and Rangers are working together in a joint effort to plan a bake sale, bazaar and baking contest.

The baking contest will be the girls own baking. There will be separate classes of cakes, cup cakes, tarts, fudge, squares and cookies. These girls will not use mixes, but they are hoping to earn their Bakers Badge.

The Brownie category will consist of cup cakes, cakes and squares and they are allowed to use mixes.

The Girl Guides have worked hard in repairing toys and making a few of their own, dolls, toys, jewellery and accessories, huge crepe flowers and sports equipment are among the many things to be sold.

If you wish to donate a toy or some baking, contact Rita Ranks at 542-3179.

Come out and enjoy an afternoon at the Anglican Parish Hall on December 12th. Doors will be open from 2:00 to 5:00. We hope to see you there.

TOY TALK

It's "that time of year again". The feeling akin to panic in the hearts of parents begins to grow in direct ratio of expectant excitement in the young. One feels far from "jolly" when struggling against overwhelming odds to select just the right toys from the plethora on the shelves.

Toys are tokens of love and should be chosen with care. Children need not be over loaded with toys. It's better to buy carefully a few selected toys of high quality than a large hit or miss collection.

The following guidelines should help you make that hard decision:

Durability and Ruggedness are Important: -- Children are destructive. Some toys are going to be chewed or dropped or banged about. They should be made to take punishment. Infants toys should be in clear, bright colors, washable, and able to be mouthed. Avoid toys which have rough edges, insecurely attached eyes, and brittle plastic items that may shatter.

Toys Should Tickle a Child's Fancy: -- Toys are part of a world of make believe. Colorful and simple things can open up a delightful world of play and fantasy. Large fully washable dolls are the best for small girls. Dolls that look like little girls, appeal to early school age children, and fashion dolls appeal to over seven year olds.

The Design of Toys Should Be Appealing: -- Children learn about color from toys. They also learn how things fit together. Co-ordination and construction toys should be geared to the child's capabilities. It should not be too difficult to frustrate the child or so simple that it bores him. The parts should be smoothly finished and fit well together. Games should teach a child how to play with others and how to be patient. When buying games, look for attractive graphics and clear instructions.

Toys Should Function Properly: -- Children expect functional toys to work. Wheel toys should be sturdy, well-balanced, and should roll smoothly. A noise toy should make a noise, if it does not, the child is going to be very frustrated with it. Look for originality in design of toys.

Careful Shopping For Toys is Sensible: -- Prices of toys vary from store to store so checking prices can save.

Toys Should Be Safe: -- A toy which can main a child is a disaster. The dangerous qualities of toys are hard for parents to detect. The Government has issued "Hazardous Products (TOYS) Regulations". These regulations prohibit immediate sale of toys which have excessively dangerous features. Safety standards and warning labels for other toys will be in effect November 1, 1971.

Making the choice of what toy to buy can be a difficult decision. I hope these suggestions will help you make your decision so you do not have to rely on the T.V. advertisement, but can make "Informed" choice.

You can tell what condition a man is in if you know what he take two at a time -- stairs or pills.
